ABSTRACT

A method for extracting textual and graphical overlays from video sequences involves steps of detecting a potential overlay in a video sequence and then verifying that the potential overlay is an actual overlay. Detection of textual overlays involves wavelet decomposition and neural network processing, while detection of graphical overlays involves template matching. Verification of textual and graphical overlays involves spatial and/or temporal verification.

DC2DOCS1/303753

Express Mail Label No. EV325260560US